RESULTS AND DISCUSSION

Principal Leadership Style

The results of this study indicated that there are 3 principal leadership styles that are classified as very good. These styles are the directing style (directing), the coaching style (training), and the supporting style (supporting). That style can be said to be very good. It deserves to be called that because the principal has a good influence on its members. Effective leadership always takes advantage of cooperation with subordinates to achieve organizational goals. In this way , the leader will get a lot of help from the thoughts, enthusiasm and strength of the subordinates who will be menimb ulkan spirit together and a sense of unity, so that it will facilitate the process of delegating and solving problems that are all advancing stats education [6]. The principal provides good direction to the teacher, the principal provides motivation to the teacher, and the principal pays attention to the availability of learning facilities [1].

Teacher Professionalism

Professionalism is leads to mental attitude in the form of a commitment from the members of professions including teachers to constantly establish and improve the quality of the professional. Whereas what is meant by teacher professionalism is a description of his mental attitude and commitment to the realization and improvement of the quality of his teacher competence with all efforts and strategies and constantly developing his abilities in accordance with the demands of the progress of the times, so that his existence always gives meaning [7].

Teacher Performance

Teacher performance is something that has certain specifications. Teacher performance can be seen and measured based on the competency specifications or criteria that must be possessed by each teacher. Teacher performance cannot be separated from the form of behavior. What is meant by the form of behavior earlier is the teacher's activities in the learning process, namely how a teacher carries out the learning process, starting from planning learning, implementing learning activities, and assessing learning achievement and follow-up [9]. Various efforts have been made to improve teacher performance and continuously make improvements to improve teacher performance and quality education in schools from the aspects of input (input), process and output (output), including through education and training, workshops, socialization and seminars, subject teacher deliberations (MGMP) and head group deliberations Schools and madrasah (MKKS/MKKM), as well as education and training (training) to increase teacher competence (PKG) as well as in the Teacher Working group (KKG)[7-10]

From previous research studies (as Tanang & Abu, Permana & Karwanto, Lian, Burhanudin, and Madura) concluded the style of leadership of the principal, very influential on professionalism teachers and impact on teacher performance [3][8][11-15]. There are more attention to maintained and improved of all, to make better education and to achieve the educational goals [16-18].

In this study, the researcher founds findings that any leadership style, any type that is most important and very influential, is an exemplary leadership style. it all goes back to the principal's behavior. if the principal can provide an example of good behavior, then the performance of the group will be good. for example, if the principal is disciplined, the teacher will be disciplined, if the principal leaves early, the teacher will leave early. then it can be said that exemplary leadership plays a very important role in the world of leadership.

CONCLUSION

Leadership Style of the Head of School is very influential on the professionalism of teachers and has an impact on teacher performance. These three things are interrelated and affect each other and cannot be separated. The principal as the leader, as the one who is given the task and authority has an important role in advancing the school he leads. Whether or not the leadership style of the school principal will have an impact on the school as a whole. Based on the conclusions that have been stated above, the suggestions that the writer can convey are as follows;

- 1) The principal must improved their spirit, work ethic, insight into experience and attention to the member teachers continuously.
- 2) Teachers do not hesitate to keep abreast of developments in society and continue to improve their abilities, skills and professionalism in carrying out their professional duties and increase their enthusiasm so that poor performance can be improved and those that are already good need to be maintained and improved. All of this is necessary for the provision of working in realizing the educational ideals that we aspire to.
- 3) Authoritative leadership will be created by exemplary ways. in the sense that a good leader is a leader who can set an example of good behavior regardless of the type of leadership style.
